

The Spicy Food Bucket List

A Unique Taste of Bali

There is no place in the world like Bali, and no food in the world like Balinese cuisine. Dishes are laced with cardamom, cloves, cumin and coconut. You can expect lots of fiery peppers, fresh veggies, roasted meats and shrimp, and some of the most creative takes on tofu and tempeh that you ever could have imagined.

Although there are plenty of Western options available, you shouldn't miss the chance to experience some of the region's fragrant and spicy offerings – it is worth coming to Bali for the food alone. So much so that it our home was recently cited by Expedia as the perfect place to eat spicy food. The article, 'The Spicy Food Bucket List', also lists Maya Ubud Resort and Spa as 'the perfect place to rest your taste buds between flavorful adventures.'

When you come to Bali, your stay should be pure bliss, from the flavorful food that you eat to those perfect moments of peace as you look out at Bali's lush scenery. You can do both at our River Café, serving up delectable 'conscious cuisine'. Clean, fresh, natural and crisp, our talent chefs are masters of creating dishes that nourish the body, mind and soul.
